LOTS Discussion and Exhibition day

The LOTS Laboratory has scheduled a number of exhibition and discussion days for the localisation community. In addition to granting free access to many of the latest localisation tools, the LOTS Laboratory offers project managers, developers, and translators the opportunity to share their knowledge of these tools and discuss their features.

The next LOTS Discussion and Exhibition day will take place on Friday, 26th September, 2003. The main focus will be on software localisation tools. Registration is free of charge.

For more information, please contact LRC@ul.ie or visit www.localisation.ie

LOTS is organised by: The European Localisation Exchange Centre (ELECT), an eContent project funded by the European Union and coordinated by the LRC.

ELECT Awards

ELECT Best Global Website Award goes Multilingual

ELECT, the European Localisation Exchange Centre, is proud to announce that its website, in support of the ELECT Best Global Website Award, has been significantly enhanced and is now multilingual. www.bestglobalwebsiteaward.com now hosts content in 6 languages, Czech, English, French, German, Greek, and Spanish.

This award, sponsored by EURO RSCG Wnek Gosper Interaction, invites individuals who have designed and/or are operating a multilingual website to submit their work for consideration. Websites will be judged on a variety of different criteria by a panel of academic and industry experts.

The closing date for this award is 30 September, 2003.
For more details log on to www.bestglobalwebsiteaward.com

Deadline for the European Localisation Scholar Award Approaches

The European Localisation Scholar award, sponsored by IBM, seeks to award an outstanding student entering into their first year of a research based postgraduate degree, in a localisation related area. Entries will be judged according to the relevance and quality of the student's research proposal and on their outstanding undergraduate track record.

The winner of this award will receive a fantastic IBM laptop, the ultimate research tool, to help them complete their degree.

For more details about this award log on to www.localisation.ie.
The closing date for entries for this award is 30 September, 2003

Information on entering the 7th Annual Best Thesis Award.

The Seventh Annual Best Thesis Award, sponsored by Symantec, aims to find the best research publication in an area relevant to internationalisation and localisation. If you are interested in learning more about this award or would like to enter go to http://lrc.csis.ul.ie/research/projects/Elect_Project_Web/best_thesis.htm

Enter the Dragon - TILP at UNICODE 24

Doing Business in China was the theme discussed by TILP at its first US-based Breakfast Meeting and Roundtable at UNICODE 24 (04 Sept, 2003, Atlanta/Georgia).

Enter the Dragon was the title of the presentation chosen by Terry Shidner of Moravia to introduce China as the emerging economic superpower. Terry's introduction led to a lively discussion among the participants, all professionals with an internationalisation and localisation background.

TILP will post the presentation delivered by Terry on its website shortly, together with a report on the meeting.

Because of the high level of interest in the Asian region among the internationalisation and localisation community, TILP will also issue a call for participation in a TILP Asia special interest group.

About TILP

TILP was established in 2002 to develop professional practices in localisation globally. TILP is a non-profit organisation, owned by its members, directed by an elected Council and its operations conducted by a CEO.

TILP Breakfast Meetings and Roundtables provide localisation professionals with a unique opportunity to discuss issues central to the localisation community in a non-commercial and non-competitive environment.

TILP Breakfast Meetings and Roundtables are open to TILP Members and individual professionals interested in localisation.

TILP's next Breakfast Meeting and Roundtable will take place at Localization World, Seattle, on 16 October, 2003, 07.00 - 08.30.

For more information on TILP and to find out how to become a member visit www.tilponline.org or email info@tilponline.org.

Sleepless in Seattle - Join TILP at Localization World
